

Spotlight on Meagan Templeton

By: John Henderson
Sports Editor

Meagan Templeton was born on April 2, 1990. Her parents are Melinda Moege and Joseph Templeton. Meagan has 6 siblings, all younger than her; Robert Moege 13, Jared Moege 8, Samantha Moege 7, Rylie Templeton 8, Trey Templeton 3, and Eryn Templeton, 1. After High School, Meagan plans to attend Washburn University and major in psychology, and hopefully play college softball. Her favorite after school activities include hanging out with friends, cruising around town, and shopping. Meagan is an active member of volleyball, softball, FCCLA, and Pep Club. Mr. King is Meagan's favorite teacher because he always has great stories to tell. When asked what her favorite class, she responded, "Art class. I love expressing myself through my designs."

In 10 years, Meagan sees herself working as a psychiatrist living in Topeka or L.A. and raising her family. Meagan Templeton admires her mother and grandmother the most because they are "the most hardworking, generous, and gracious people around. They are always there to help me out!" The Bahamas would be her first pick if she could take a trip anywhere. If she was a tree, she would choose to be a weeping willow "because they are gorgeous." Meagan's hidden talent is that she can make her tongue dance. If she had $1 million, Meagan would buy a big house